

February Home School Museum Mondays

FREE with museum admission

FEBRUARY 6

Can You See What I Hear

Join us to learn the science behind SONAR and the amazing story of the US Navy's first African American SONAR operator, Lanier Phillips.

MNH&S: 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

When it was a Segregated Game: The Negro Leagues of Cincinnati

Discuss the origins of the Negro Leagues in the United States, focusing specifically on the teams in Cincinnati and their unsung heroes.

CHM: Noon to 1 p.m.

Ugly Face Jugs

These ugly jugs scream KEEP OUT! How ugly can you make yours?

DECM: 3 to 4 p.m.

FEBRUARY 13

Can You See What I Hear

Join us to learn the science behind SONAR and the amazing story of the US Navy's first African American SONAR operator, Lanier Phillips.

MNH&S: 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

When it was a Segregated Game: The Negro Leagues of Cincinnati

Discuss the origins of the Negro Leagues in the United States, focusing specifically on the teams in Cincinnati and their unsung heroes.

CHM: Noon to 1 p.m.

Around the Block with Bearden

Celebrate Black History with artwork inspired by Romare Bearden.

DECM: 3 to 4 p.m.

Cincinnati Stories*: The Trains of Union Terminal

This program will focus on the development of railroads in the region, culminating with the construction of Union Terminal, and discussing the types of trains that would have frequented the station from its inception to modern times.

CHM: 2 to 4 p.m.

FEBRUARY 20

Let's Blow Off Some Steam

Explore the properties of water and learn how different types of steam engines work.

MNH&S: 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Snapshots of Virginia Coffey

Flip through the pages of a scrapbook about the life and work of influential African-American woman Virginia Coffey, a community leader for civil rights and race relations.

CHM: Noon to 1 p.m.

Ugly Face Jugs

These ugly jugs scream KEEP OUT! How ugly can you make yours?

DECM: 3 to 4 p.m.

FEBRUARY 27

Let's Blow Off Some Steam

Explore the properties of water and learn how different types of steam engines work.

MNH&S: 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Ohio Frontier Trader

Learn about Native American life before and after trade began with early settlers. Come see what items were used and traded between early settlers and Native Americans to understand how the frontier economy worked.

CHM: Noon to 1 p.m.

Around the Block with Bearden

Celebrate Black History with artwork inspired by Romare Bearden.

DECM: 3 to 4 p.m.

* Each month, Cincinnati Stories will discuss an aspect of Southern Ohio history related to Cincinnati and suggest accompanying literature for the kids to do further study. Most books recommended in this program are available at the Cincinnati Public Library.

DECM = Duke Energy Children's Museum
MNH&S = Museum of Natural History & Science
CHM = Cincinnati History Museum

